Mecobalamine With DHA

Spirulina is low in calories and fat and one of the highest protein vegetarian foods, containing all essential amino acids. Spirulina is one of the excellent natural sources of Iron and the reason why the iron in spirulina appears to be so bioavailable is because the iron forms soluble complexes with Phycocyanin. This iron-phycocyanin complex allows easier absorption by the body of this important mineral.

DHA (Docosahexaenoic Acid), an important omega-3 fatty acid, is a vital building block of the brain, 70% of the adult brain is formed before birth. foetal life & infancy are the critical periods for brain growth.

Due to inadequate intake of DHA from Indian diets, DHA supplementation is critical to support its optimum requirement for the brain development.
